CEYLON AFTERNOON

Loose Leaf Teas
BROKEN ORANGE
PEKOE (BOP)

Coloury and bright semi broken leaf tea, from the up country hills of Ceylon's famous tea country. This tea possesses good Ceylon character, tempered with reasonable strength. The BOP is usually enjoyed without milk or sugar, although we would recommend a touch of fresh milk if your palate is unused to fresh Ceylon Tea. Add sugar to taste. A good breakfast tea.

CEYLON BREAKFAST

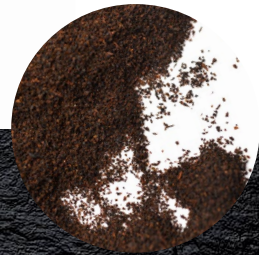

Loose Leaf Teas

BROKEN ORANGE

PEKOE FANNING (BOPF)

A fine broken leaf tea. A bright morning tea, with body, strength, colour and pungency representing the essence of fine Ceylon tea. Strong and intense, a full-bodied tea. Hand-picked in the highlands of Sri Lanka. It's strength and character permit the addition of milk, cream, honey or sugar, but it's just as good enjoyed straight.

CEYLON GREEN

Loose Leaf Teas
GUNPOWDER
GREEN TEA

The leaves of this green tea are rolled from the finest young leaves, hence when infused, the tightly rolled leaf uncurls gently, imparting the strength, flavor and character. A gentle tea evolves with grassy herbal notes and in the cup, a dark yellow infusion typical of a medium strength green tea.
